Enduring Understanding	Good readers use a variety of appropriate strategies to understand text. Reading books can help us relate to others and enable us to understand other points of view. I can use self-evaluation skills to become more independent.
Essential Questions	How can I use proper hygiene to prevent illness? How does washing my hands help keep me from not getting sick? How do I protect myself from the sun's rays? What can I do to help protect my teeth? What is an opinion? How can I use words to express my opinions? How do writers state their opinion? How do writers use details to support their opinion? How can I use self-evaluation skills to become more independent?
Culminating Task (Including DOK terms in bold)	Personal Health and Wellness In this 6-week unit, referencing The Multiple Means Learning (MML) approach and using Preferred Mode of Communication (PMC), students will construct an opinion piece about personal health and wellness by: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Identifying and recalling concepts taught throughout the unit. (RL) • Applying concepts in the real world such as brushing your teeth, using sunscreen, washing your hands. (RL) • Comparing the effects of making positive personal health and wellness related choices vs. making negative health and wellness related choices (e.g., Not using sunblock can lead to sunburn) (RL, SL) • Formulating an opinion about ways to improve personal health and wellness. (RI, RL) • Organizing information clearly. (RI, W) • Revising work as needed through the writing process. (W) • Assessing their own work throughout the writing process by using self-assessments/checklists. Culminating Task Ideas: (These are suggestions for how to display the culminating task.
